LBJ's Actions Abroad, Home Hit by Barry

By ARTHUR EDSON
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, stepping up his criticism of President Johnson's actions at home and abroad, today swings into Idaho, Montana and Minnesota.
"The Republican party this year is not going to be a me-too party," Goldwater said Wednesday. To emphasize his point, he whacked away at Johnson in every direction, especially at his foreign policy.
"We are not going to be diverted," he told a standing-room-only crowd of more than 14,000 at Seattle's Coliseum.
"Foreign policy is an issue. It is going to remain an issue — right up until the moment this administration finally gets around to doing something that really serves the cause of freedom in this world."
Goldwater said Democrats had used foreign crises for political gain, and declared: "Americans must be prepared, under such an administration, to be faced by crisis of some sort just before an election."
Goldwater was expected to keep hammering at Johnson today. His schedule called for stops in Boise, Idaho; Great Falls, Mont.; and then a major speech in Minneapolis tonight.
On this Western trip the Republican presidential candidate has been passing through territory captured by Richard M. Nixon in 1960, but in Minnesota he will be in the heart of Democratic territory. The state went for John F. Kennedy in the last election, has a Democratic governor, and two Democratic senators, one of whom is Hubert H. Humphrey, Lyndon B. Johnson's close ally.

Cross Complaint in Vote Contest

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark. (AP) — State Sen. Merle Peterson, declared a 16-vote winner in the 21st District race which was contested by his opponent, filed a statement that additional grades would be desegregated each year as rapidly as the boards think advisable. At least one grade will be desegregated each year, the statement said.
Batesville's Negro school has an enrollment of 115 pupils, but eight of these are bussed in from other districts.
Negroes make up about five per cent of Batesville's population of 7,121.

Perhaps the Greatest Hobby Sport in the 20th Century Is the Taking of Medicine

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody should have a hobby. I have what I consider the ideal hobby.
My hobby is taking medicine. It is the greatest sport of the 20th century.
To ski you have to have snow or water. To golf you need landscape. To sail you need a boat and a lake or ocean. To hunt you need a gun and something that will run from you. To fish — well, at least you need a hook and a lot of patience.
But to take medicine all you can make the hobby as expensive or inexpensive as you choose.
The fellow who wouldn't lend you a dime to keep you from starving is glad to let you sample his medicine.
As a beginning hobbyist, you may try to take any and all kinds of medicine. This is the mark of the overeager amateur. To him there is no difference between a medicine to rid one of tapeworms and a liniment to soothe a sprain.
A true connoisseur learns early to specialize.
You can choose medicines designed to cure or alleviate specific ailments — such as

Child Hit by Car, Still Critical

Vincent Darrelle Williams, 2-year-old son of Gladys Fisher, remained in critical condition Thursday in a local hospital. The child ran in front of an auto driven by Lizzie Cheatham yesterday on North Hazel Street. Investigating City Officers termed the accident unavoidable and filed no charges. They said Lizzie Cheatham was driving within the speed limit. The child was knocked some 81 feet from the point of impact.

Batesville Has Integration

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Ten Negro first-graders attended three once-weekly elementary schools today in a desegregation move which school officials said had been under consideration for months.
There was no incident.
The school board said in a statement that additional grades would be desegregated each year as rapidly as the boards think advisable. At least one grade will be desegregated each year, the statement said.

Beginners Band Classes Planned Here

Beginning band classes at Hope Public Schools are to start next week. Several changes have been made in the arrangements concerning beginning band and will go into effect this week.

Students in the fifth and sixth grades in Brookwood, Garland and Paisley are being introduced to the workings of a band through the public school music program being taught by Mrs. Richard Keyton.
This program should give specific ideas to the students about the various instruments of the band, and help them select one they would like to play. Next Tuesday, September 15, displays of the instruments will be given in the grade schools and that afternoon conferences are to be held with the child and the band director.
Instruments for the students may be obtained in various ways: School owned instruments, privately owned instruments and the rental-purchase plan. If you have good used instruments you would like to dispose of please call PR 7-2727 or mail the following information to:

Band Director, Hope High School; Type, make, serial number, date of purchase.
The band program of Hope Public Schools was given a boost when the residents of Hope raised the money this summer for the new uniforms, but now needs a boost in numbers. The only method of achieving this goal is through a strong beginning band program.

Convicted Rapist Plans to Appeal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lonnie B. Mitchell Jr., a Negro under death penalty on a rape conviction, has filed notice in U.S. District Court here that he will appeal Judge Gordon E. Young's dismissal of his petition for a release.
Young denied Mitchell's petition for release on a writ of habeas corpus Aug. 6.
The new appeal will go to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.
Mitchell, 28, of El Dorado, was convicted in Union County Circuit Court in 1959 in an attack on an elderly white woman.

Some Show of Optimism Over Viet Nam War

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor has told Johnson administration leaders that anti-Communist military forces in South Viet Nam are growing in strength and efficiency at a faster rate than the Red Viet Cong guerrillas, it was reported today.
Taylor, however, has also told conferees here that he does not think the U.S.-supported Vietnamese are going to achieve victory over the Red guerrillas by military means in the foreseeable future.

Officials said, therefore, that Taylor would not rule out negotiations aimed at ending the fighting in the south. He is represented as believing a situation may be brought about — apparently by increasing anti-Communist military pressures — in which Communist North Viet Nam will decide it has to negotiate a peace settlement in order to save itself.

High officials said Taylor's view is that no war ever stops without negotiations.
The U.S. envoy to Saigon returned here Monday and has been consulting with President Johnson and other officials. He had closed-session dates today with two congressional committees and planned to start his flying journey back to Southeast Asia tonight.

The agreement among Johnson administration policy chiefs as a result of the Taylor meetings, officials said, is that the first need in South Viet Nam is a strong government. Any new, expanded military operations should await development of such a strong political center.
Meanwhile, however, contingency plans have been made for a variety of operations, including air strikes against the Communist jungle supply trails from the north. Those plans may be used in the future if a decision Continued on Page Two

AP&L Issues Challenges to FPC Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas Power & Light Co. challenged the Federal Power Commission Wednesday because the commission says AP&L has to file rate schedules covering electric sales the company claims are regulated by the state of Arkansas.
AP&L filed the rates with the FPC, under protest.

FPC examiner Ames W. Williams presided at a hearing on a commission order directing AP&L to show cause why it should not be found in violation of the Federal Power Act. The order came from alleged failure of AP&L to file rate schedules for power produced for resale to 23 purchasers in Arkansas.

The commission contends AP&L operates at wholesale for resale or at retail in Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri and Louisiana.

The commission asked the company to show why it should not be determined that the questioned sales are in interstate commerce, and therefore subject to the provisions of the act.
An AP&L attorney contended the sales in question are not, in fact, wholesale sales in interstate commerce, and that they have been subject to regulations by the Arkansas Public Service Commission for many years.

Mrs. Ada McGraw Dies Wednesday

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday at Latimer Funeral Chapel in Nashville by the Rev. Alfred DeBlack. Burial will be in County Line Cemetery, near Nashville.

Token Integration in Virginia County

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP) — Token integration came to the reopened public schools in Prince Edward County today, marking the end of a five-year school lock-out to prevent classroom desegregation.
The integration — fought for 13 years in the courts and since 1959 by closed schools — turned out to be a slight uncommon in the South. It was integration in reverse as only a handful of white children took their places in classrooms with 1,600 Negroes.

The county's other 1,200 white school-age children have been at classes for a week in the segregated private Prince Edward Academy.

Only one state trooper and one town policeman were on duty at the schools, and they were needed only to direct the going and coming of the school buses.

There were few onlookers and no disturbances.

Prince Edward closed its public schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered integration, but the county must re-open the schools.

Hurricane Rips Coast of Florida, Heads to Georgia

By REID G. MILLER

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)

Hurricane Dora smashed at St. Augustine and Jacksonville today with a giant hammer of wind and tide, then veered inland to threaten Florida's Gulf Coast and southern Georgia.

The massive storm, tormenting 100,000 square miles of land and sea with tides up to 10 feet and peak winds of 100 mile an hour, sent gales whistling toward Florida's Panhandle and all the way up the Atlantic Coast to South Carolina.

Brunswick, Ga., about 100 miles north of St. Augustine, suffered its worst pounding in 20 years from a five-foot tide and gusts that shattered windows and ripped roofs at 85 m.p.h.

Thousands of Georgians fled from coastal areas, but dawn brought hope that the worst was over.

Early unofficial estimates put damage so far in the tens of millions of dollars in the wide-ranging storm area.

Water flowed high deep in the ancient Slave Market Square in the heart of this picturesque city of 15,000, the nation's oldest.

Giant old oaks that have weathered tempests through the centuries were uprooted. Most streets were inundated. Power was out.

In Jacksonville — a city of 250,000 with a modern, gleaming skyline — homes were unroofed, streets flooded, power lines, poles and trees tossed to the ground in a tangle.

Where tides did not reach to damage buildings, torrential rains lashed by the shrieking, moaning winds did. Hundreds of homes had wind-driven rain on their floors.

Shortly after daybreak, Dora was centered about 30 miles southwest of downtown Jacksonville, moving erratically toward the west of west-northwest at seven miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau advised that more battering was to come.

Rains of 10 to 15 inches were predicted for the rest of northern Florida and southeastern Georgia, producing flooding in rivers and streams, some severe.

Hurricane warnings flew as far as Charleston, S.C., with gale warnings up to Myrtle Beach, S.C., and along the Gulf coast of Florida from Sarasota to Apalachicola.

"We think the storm will go up through the center of Georgia," said a forecaster at the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "That would take some of the steam out of it."

When Dora's calm eye finally pressed ashore, St. Augustine and Jacksonville Beach already Continued on Page Two

Apportionment Debate Limit Beaten Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move to shut off debate in the Senate battle over the Supreme Court's legislative reapportionment decision failed today.

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move to shut off debate in the Senate battle over the Supreme Court's legislative reapportionment decision appeared certain of defeat today.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and 16 other senators are trying to end debate on Dirksen's proposal to delay for at least a year federal court orders carrying out the high tribunal's ruling that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned on a population basis.

President Johnson, meanwhile, was reported backing a compromise that states it is the "sense of Congress" that legislative reapportionment be delayed. This would not have the force of Dirksen's proposal.

The controversy is one of the chief stumbling blocks to adjournment of Congress. Dirksen seeks to attach his proposal to the $3.3-billion foreign-aid authorization bill to prevent any possibility of a presidential veto.

The cloture vote — which requires two-thirds approval from those senators voting — is expected to fail short. It is Continued on Page Two

Scenic Drive Planned to Oklahoma

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of Congress from Arkansas and Oklahoma met with federal and state officials Wednesday to work out details for a 55-mile mountain-top scenic drive from near Mena, Ark., to Tahliana, Okla.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma called the meeting, which was attended by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., representatives of Sens. J. William Fulbright and John L. McClellan, both of Arkansas; and J. T. Pendergrass of the Arkansas Highway Department.

The $4.5 million skyline drive, to be paid for with federal federal funds, is already under construction in Oklahoma.

Monroney said Arkansas officials reported they have completed a survey of the proposed new road and expect to award the first contract by Jan. 1 with all remaining contracts to be let within two years.

Camp sites and picnic areas cost about $1.5 million are planned for development during the next five or six years.

son's vice presidential running mate.

For the second night in a row Goldwater had a tremendous crowd. As in Los Angeles Tuesday night, each person was charged $1 for a ticket.

Goldwater lit into foreign affairs immediately. He claimed the Cuban crisis — which caused the late President John F. Kennedy to cut short a campaign tour of the West — proved two things.

"First, of course, it proved that an administration which long had planned on the basis that the Soviet never would move missiles into this hemisphere, was dead and dangerously wrong," Goldwater said.

"And it proved that despite weeks, and months, of warning about the missiles, an administration totally political in its goals and instincts could and would wait until the perilous last moment to take action — take action at a time that would have maximum political impact."

Goldwater said he had ap-

Candidate Barred

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled Tuesday that B. T. Ladner of Blythe-ville could not run against State Sen. Lee Bearden in the November general election. Ladner sought to run as an independent.

Bennett held that the persons who circulated Ladner's petitions, did not verify them by oath and therefore his filing as an independent was invalid.

Bennett said it appeared that Ladner had enough names to run.

Dirksen's rider would delay for a year or more court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures "in the absence of highly unusual circumstances."

While opponents of the rider appeared to have enough votes to defeat Dirksen, Dirksen said he is confident he can muster a majority to defeat any subsequent motion to table and thus kill his rider and clear the way for passage of the foreign-aid bill.

Dirksen's aim is to buy time until legislatures can act on a constitutional amendment preserving their present apportionment procedures.

is made that such an expansion of the war is necessary.

In South Viet Nam itself the major concentration of effort in the immediate future, officials said, will be in the area around Saigon.

While Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a late morning news conference, Taylor planned to testify before closed sessions of the Senate Foreign Relations and House Foreign Affairs committees.

The ambassador was slated to leave Washington by plane early this evening to return to troubled Saigon.

The focus of attention in the broad administration review of the South Viet Nam situation since Taylor's arrival Monday has been on political stability there.

In the U.S. view, the South-east Asian country needs a strong central government under good leadership to cope with the Communist insurgents. After more than two weeks of political turmoil, Premier Nguyen Khanh is once again emerging in control and he has U.S. backing.

The U.S. reappraisal climaxed Wednesday — first with a session between President Johnson, his top military and diplomatic advisers and Taylor, and then by a two-hour meeting of 14 congressional leaders at the White House to hear from the ambassador.

The president told newsmen after the bipartisan legislative leadership session that Taylor had reported "continued progress in the field in the Vietnamese army's fight against the Communist Viet Cong."

Both Johnson and Taylor indicated after the review that American policy would continue basically along present lines — large-scale U.S. assistance to help the South Vietnamese government stamp out the guerrillas within its borders.

The ambassador, who was chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff before going to Saigon in July, reported a "general upward trend" in the Vietnamese army strength, a "relatively favorable" economic situation, and "no visible signs of retardation" of the war effort.

He said Khanh has broad backing in his country, and "I have every hope that we can get over this political crisis without accepting a setback" in prosecuting the war.

had been hammered by hurricane-force winds, slashing rain and huge waves for more than 12 hours.

This morning, the hurricane's tide pushed the waters of the St. Johns River over its banks into a residential area in the middle of Jacksonville.

National Guard trucks were dispatched to the area to remove residents.

St. Augustine's water supply was low, causing a critical problem at shelters housing evacuees. The storm shut down pumps used by the water utility.

"My big problem is deciding whether to let these people out of shelters," said Civil Defense Director Fred Willis. "I've got no water pressure in the shelters. We can't flush the toilets."

An estimated 50,000 persons fled the northeast Florida coastline as Dora approached Wednesday. Other thousands left their homes for higher ground in Georgia and South Carolina.

Dora was a nightmare at Jacksonville Beach, 35 miles to the north. Pounded by hurricane force winds and crashing waves, the seawall began to crumble.

Floodwaters swirled three or four blocks from the beach and ran in some streets like small rivers. Live wires hissed like snakes.

The top of a 47-year-old hotel was destroyed. The roof was ripped from a motel. The living room of a home was swept away. Flood waters sucked at the foundations of other buildings.

Twelve hundred refugees from the storm tried to sleep on the floor of a high school gym as rain swept in through broken windows.

Store windows were smashed at mainland Jacksonville, 18 miles from the beach. Police reported some looting. At least three men were arrested.

Power was out to 92 per cent of the city. Trees were bowled over and minor debris littered the streets.

Most of the power was also knocked out at the vacation city of Brunswick, about 100 miles north of St. Augustine. The roof of one building was blown completely away. Two other roofs were badly damaged.

Windows were smashed, and sheets of tin pitched into the streets. A ferris wheel was smashed on Jekyll Island.

Canada geese generally fly at 30 to 35 miles an hour.

Hockey League Trades

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran goalie Jacques Plante and rookie Rod Seiling, acquired in two of the biggest National Hockey League trades of the past decade, have signed their 1964-65 contracts, the New York Rangers said Wednesday.

Picks Giants, Packers for Pro Playoff

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Hornung will lead Green Bay to the Western Conference title and Y.A. Tittle's magic will make it four straight for New York in the East, setting up another Packer-Giant showdown for the National Football League title Dec. 27 at Yankee Stadium.

The Packers are generally being picked to dethrone the Chicago Bears in the West, with Baltimore and possibly Detroit and Minnesota challenging.

The East looks like a wide open scramble among New York, St. Louis and Cleveland, with Washington a long-shot possibility. Despite the Giants' sad 1-4 record in the exhibition games and player shake-ups of earthquake proportions, Allie Sherman still has the old Bald Eagle and a flock of nifty pass catchers.

St. Louis is the soundest club in the East but they still have to prove themselves under championship fire and may be a bit thin in defense. Cleveland has added passing strength with rookie flanker Paul Warfield to complement Jim Brown's running, but something always seems to go wrong. With Sonny Jurgensen, rookie Charley Taylor and veteran Sam Huff in the lineup, Washington is highly respected.

Here's the way it looks from here before the opening gun:

- WESTERN CONFERENCE
1. Green Bay
 2. Chicago
 3. Baltimore
 4. Detroit
 5. Minnesota
 6. Los Angeles
 7. Philadelphia
- EASTERN CONFERENCE
1. New York
 2. St. Louis
 3. Cleveland
 4. Washington
 5. Pittsburgh
 6. Dallas
 7. Philadelphia

Paul Hornung's return after a year's suspension for betting on games and the driving ambition of Coach Vince Lombardi to make up for last year's defeats by the Bears should be enough to tip the scales in favor of Green Bay. Big strides in this race will be taken in the first three with Packers playing Chicago, Baltimore and Detroit on successive weekends.

Despite the Bears' troubles in the exhibition games with a spluttering offense, George Halas has that same alert defensive unit that won the league championship last December. The Bears won't blast anybody off the field but they'll be in there.

Tony Lorick looked so good against the Steelers that it is tempting to pick Baltimore higher than third. Johnny Unitas has some fine targets but the defense is showing its age.

With Alex Karras, like Hornung back from a year's suspension, Detroit's formidable defensive unit is intact but a year older. Much depends on Milt Plum's arm.

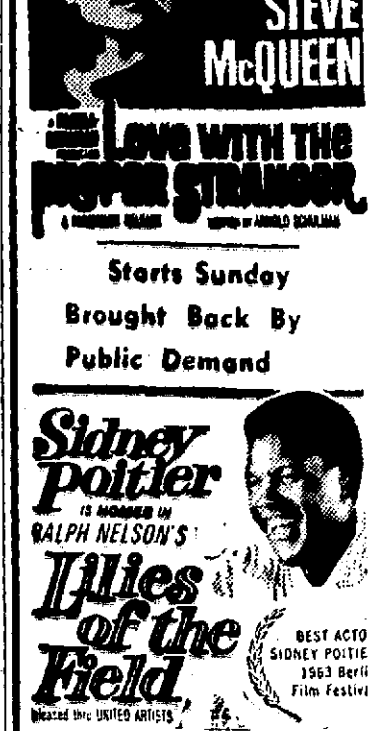

Minnesota, with a perfect 3-0 exhibition record, looks tough with Bill Brown and Tommy Mason approximating Green Bay's ground punch of Hornung and Jim Taylor.

Los Angeles should beat out San Francisco for sixth place. That Ram front four on defense can give anybody fits.

Tittle and the pass-catching corps give the edge to the Giants in the East although Sherman still has no running game and needs settling on defense and pass protection.

The Cards have a fine passer in Charley Johnson, brilliant receivers in Sonny Randle and Bobby Joe Conrad and a big punch in Prentice Gautt and Joe Childress. If they can stop the big running teams like Cleveland and Pittsburgh they can win.

Cleveland has improved but must face both Green Bay and Detroit from the other conference. Those small pass defense men still will have trouble.

Washington has come up with an exciting runner in Taylor, plus an experienced quarterback, Jurgensen, and more catching skill in Angelo Coia. Huff must help the defense all season for that leaky pass cover has killed the Skins for years.

Pittsburgh has been slow coming around but it has a stiff punch in John Henry Johnson and some tough muscle men up front.

Dallas should have the wildest games in the league with Tommy McDonald and Buddy Dial catching and nobody to stop the

Women's Tennis on the Upswing

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Women's tennis in the United States is on the ascendancy again after a brief lull — and in the forefront is a demure California mother, Karen Hantze Susman.

Mrs. Susman, 21, of San Diego, Calif., fashioned the biggest upset of the National Championships Wednesday when she knocked out Margaret Smith of Australia, the 1962 champion and No. 2 seed, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

She became one of five American survivors in the quarter-finals, the best American showing.

ing in the last few years.
Karen foot-faulted 20 times and served 16 double-faults in the first two sets but won when the Australian girl double-faulted at set point in the last two sets.

Karen's quarter-final opponent is Carole Caldwell Graebner of Santa Monica, Calif.

The winner plays the survivor of the match between third-seeded Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and Nancy Richey of Dallas, assuring the United States of at least one finalist.

The United States' two big guns, Dennis Ralston and Chuck McKinley, survived to the men's quarter-finals but they have a hard road ahead against invading rivals, including Australians Roy Emerson, Fred Stolle and Tony Roche, plus defending champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico.

Ralston, seeded No. 2, from Bakersfield, Calif., won over 41-year-old Vic Seixas, the Davis Cup captain, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. McKinley, seeded No. 4, from San Antonio, Tex., turned back Ron

Patal Terminal in L.R. Is Leased

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Post Office Department announced Tuesday that it has leased a two-story factory building here as its new Little Rock terminal, which is the distribution center for most of the state's mail.

The department leased the Ottenheimer Brothers Manufacturing Co. plant, which is near the present mail terminal in the Missouri Pacific Lines' Depot. The Depot terminal has long been considered crowded.

The Ottenheimer firm, which employs 600 persons in the manufacture of dresses, will move to the Little Rock Industrial District.

Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., 7-5, 6-4, 8-6.

Ralston faces Stolle in a Davis Cup preview while McKinley plays Roger Taylor of England. The other pairings send Osuna against England's Mike Sangster and Emerson against Roche.

50th Anniversary of the Southwest Conference launches its 50th football campaign next week with Texas in a position to set a couple of outstanding records.

Texas can become the first school in the league to win three consecutive undisputed championships.

Texas can set a record for victories. Texas A&M holds the record—19 straight in 1939-40. But Texas has won 11 in a row and can hang up a new mark by winning its first nine games.

Baylor, however, can set the most unique record of all—it can become the first school to go 39 years without winning a championship.

But to take Texas would be to shorten the odds. Texas has won or shared the championship three straight years. It is again loaded with experience, has great kicking, strong running, terrific on defense and got in more practice last season than any other team in the conference.

Texas practiced almost a month more than anybody because it played in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Darrell Royal claims his team is too thick in spots. But he must be thinking about the national championship. He seems to be deep enough to compete for the conference championship.

Rice is getting support from enough quarters to make the Rice-Texas game the one to decide the title. Or that's the assumption.

Arkansas looks best next to Texas and Rice but Southern Methodist and Texas Tech aren't going to be easy to handle. Baylor is uncommonly confident and Texas A&M feels it has the manpower and the spirit to at last start the drive upward.

That leaves only Texas Christian to ponder over. The Horned Frogs aren't talking except to say they sure hate to be rated last, which they fear will be the situation.

So this is the way they will finish in 1964 (no arguments please):

1. Texas.
2. Rice.

4. Texas Tech
5. Baylor.
6. Texas A&M.

Third in the Conference

By Harold V. Ratliff Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference launches its 50th football campaign next week with Texas in a position to set a couple of outstanding records.

Texas can become the first school in the league to win three consecutive undisputed championships.

Texas can set a record for victories. Texas A&M holds the record—19 straight in 1939-40. But Texas has won 11 in a row and can hang up a new mark by winning its first nine games.

Baylor, however, can set the most unique record of all—it can become the first school to go 39 years without winning a championship.

But to take Texas would be to shorten the odds. Texas has won or shared the championship three straight years. It is again loaded with experience, has great kicking, strong running, terrific on defense and got in more practice last season than any other team in the conference.

Texas practiced almost a month more than anybody because it played in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Darrell Royal claims his team is too thick in spots. But he must be thinking about the national championship. He seems to be deep enough to compete for the conference championship.

Rice is getting support from enough quarters to make the Rice-Texas game the one to decide the title. Or that's the assumption.

Hope, Prescott Renew Rivalry Friday Night

By CARTER HARDAGE

Hope Star Sports Editor

Tomorrow night the Bobcats renew a long time rivalry with the Curly Wolves of Prescott.

These two teams have not met on the gridiron since 1958, the year that Hope went all the way for an undefeated season.

Prescott was rather unceremoniously gunned down to the tune of 59-7.

This year's version of the Curly Wolf isn't expected to fare quite so badly. They are rated as a dark horse in the 7A battle.

Prescott opened its season this year in about the same manner as Hope. Going against the Malvern Leopards, rated as the biggest thing in the way of the Hope's return to a regional championship, they were trounced 26-7.

The Curly Wolves have a good running game built around fullback Larry Meeks. Although they have not passed much, they are reputed to be able to if the situation arises. However, it seems that the situation must have arisen against Malvern, but with no results.

Coach John N. Barnes prefers a rather conservative offense with none of the frills of flanking backs or split ends. He does, nevertheless, use a monster defense.

Yankee Sale to CBS Is Denounced

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — "I just hope I will never have to say 'damn it, I told you so.'"

Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox, a very fierce and frustrated club owner, voiced this fervent wish today after having led and lost a vigorous battle to stop the Columbia Broadcasting System from entering the inner sanctum of major league baseball.

By the same 8 to 2 club owner count that had been acquired in a telegraph and telephone poll of a month ago, the American League, in a near day-long meeting Wednesday, officially approved the sale of 80 per cent of the New York Yankees for $11.2 million to the national television and radio network.

Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president, expressed delight and gratification with the manner in which the club owners handled the controversial matter but Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics, angrily called the American League action, "a railroad job."

"I requested of Dr. Stanton that CBS withdraw its offer to purchase the Yankees for the good of baseball," said Finley, first of the owners to exit from the stormy 7½ hour session behind locked doors. "The gentleman very graciously, however, stated he would not withdraw."

Finley reiterated his threat to sell his club to a Kansas City interest for $8 million and again charged that the Yankee-CBS transaction would result in a thorough investigation by the Justice Department of baseball's immunity from antitrust laws.

Dr. Stanton acknowledged that CBS was taking a "calculated risk" but added that before entering into a deal with the Yankees, the network had recruited outside legal counsel for an opinion on whether it would be in violation of the Antitrust Act.

Allyn, less vehement but equally as determined as his Kansas City counterpart, accused his American League colleagues of hasty and unwise action.

The young-looking White Sox head sought vainly to delay the vote, proposing that the league engage outside counsel, independent of baseball, distinguished in the field of antitrust law, to advise it from a wholly objective point of view, whether the ownership of the Yankees by CBS would or might result in prosecution of the league or CBS for violating the antitrust laws.

Allyn lost another round when by a 7-3 vote, Baltimore joining the White Sox and Athletics in voting in the affirmative.

Allyn lost another round when his attempt to make a motion to inquire into the possibility of conflict of interest was ruled out of order and not even considered.

Orioles Split But Increase League Lead

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Happiness is a healthy Boog Powell.

To the Baltimore Orioles, that is. To the other American League pennant contenders, a healthy Boog is unhappier than a Shakespearean tragedy.

Powell, the Orioles' slugging left fielder, exploded for a pair of two-run homers in Baltimore's 6-3 first-game victory and belted three singles in a 4-3 losing cause in the second game of the Wednesday two-night doubleheader.

Despite the split, the Orioles increased their lead to one game over second-place Chicago and 1½ games over third-place New York. The White Sox lost to Minnesota, 5-2, while Detroit dumped the Yankees 4-0.

Powell returned to action only last Saturday after missing 14 games with a fractured wrist suffered against Boston Aug. 20. During his absence, Baltimore managed only an even split in 14 games.

Powell failed to hit in his first three times at bat after his return but now has seven hits in his last 11 trips to the plate, raising his average to .291.

He slammed his 33rd homer following Buster Narum's walk to Norm Siebern in the first inning of Wednesday opener and came back with his 34th after another walk to Siebern in the sixth.

The 23-year-old Powell figured in all of the Orioles' scoring in the nightcap. He ignited a two-run rally in the fourth inning with a one-out single and stroked a clutch single in the sixth when the Orioles tied the game 3-3.

In the National League, St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 10-5 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 4-1, Los Angeles walloped San Francisco 8-1, Milwaukee knocked off New York 7-4 and Chicago beat Houston 3-0.

A former Orioles, Willie Kirkland, prevented a doubleheader sweep of the Senators. Kirkland, whom Washington acquired from Baltimore last month, clouted a two-out homer in the ninth inning of the second game, breaking the 3-3 deadlock.

Chicago remained only .0004 ahead of the Yankees as the Twins battered 17-game winner Juan Pizarro in the second and third innings.

Minnesota tied the game 2-2 in the second as Jimmie Hall doubled in a run and scored on Earl Battey's single. Bob Allison snapped the stalemate with a two-run triple in the third, then scored as Hall fouled out.

Mickey Lolich stopped New York on five hits, posted his seventh straight victory and third consecutive shutout and increased his record to 16-7. The Tigers scored all of their runs in the seventh inning, the last three on Don Wert's home run off Whitey Ford, 14-6.

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer in the 10th inning carried the Red Sox past the Indians. Woody Held countered with a bases-empty blast in Cleveland's 10th, but that wasn't enough.

Dick Radatz, the victim of Held's homer, tied a league mark with his 71st pitching appearance. Baltimore's Stu Miller set the record last season. The major league record is 74, held by Jim Konstanty of the 1950 Philadelphia Phillies.

Texarkana's Razorbacks, top-ranked this week in the Associated Press high school football poll, are two-touchdown favorites over Big 12 Conference defending champion Pine Bluff Friday night.

Jonesboro is favored by two touchdowns over Hot Springs in the only other Big 12 Conference game. Fort Smith, El Dorado, Little Rock Central and Little Rock Hall are favored to win important non-conference games.

With a 13-2-2 record on last week's predictions, here's how they look for this week:

TEXARKANA 27, Pine Bluff 13. Quarterback Freddie Green and fullback Joe Blagg give the Razorbacks an unstoppable offense.

JONESBORO 14, Hot Springs 0. The Hurricane showed promise in a victory over Batesville and Hot Springs couldn't muster more than a tie with Jacksonville.

LITTLE ROCK CENTRAL 20, Benton 7. Always a good game, but the Tigers have too much passing from quarterback Bruce Cunningham.

FORT SMITH 21, Fayetteville 6. The Grizzlies should get rolling after a slow but winning start against Van Buren.

EL DORADO 20, Smackover 6. A brilliant line will do the job.

LITTLE ROCK HALL 13, Little Rock Catholic 7 (Thursday). Watch halfback Bobby Kincaid. SPRINGDALE 7, Bentonville 0. Bentonville played Fayetteville a good game in losing last week.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. 7, Blytheville 0. The Chicks couldn't get off the ground against Helena.

Two-a-Day Sessions Are Over

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas head Coach Frank Broyles told a jubilant bunch of Razorbacks Wednesday afternoon that the two-a-day practice schedule was over.

At the same time, Broyles announced workouts would be closed to the public. The Hogs had started working on Oklahoma State offensive and defensive patterns the day before.

shape, injury-wise, than the 1963 Razorbacks were at this stage of the season.

Fred Marshall, No. 1 quarterback who has been unable to throw for the past few days, tossed several passes; and Randy Stewart, top center, returned to work.

Marshall had a bruised muscle in his passing arm, and Stewart turned his knee last week.

Asked to evaluate the work-

outs so far, Broyles said:

"If I could do that I could sleep a lot better. It's really hard to evaluate things when you're just working against yourself. You never know until Dec. 1 what you've done, and you just hope you've done your best."

He did say the Razorbacks' attitude was better.

Algorism New Means of Calculation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Solving the traveling salesman problem or designing comfortable bras — these and a lot of other sticklers can be handled quickly by a new kind of "Algorism."

An algorism is a way of calculating by means of nine figures and zero. A professor at the Krannert Graduate School of Industrial Administration, Purdue University, has developed a new algorism to be used in conjunction with modern computers. He says the technique lets businessmen select almost instantly the best solution from up to billions of possible combinations.

With a traveling salesman, one of management's problems is to decide on the best route a salesman should take to cover far-flung stops most efficiently and most economically. The business conditions under which such trips are made change often. The aim remains the same — make the most profit for his company.

Dr. Stanley J. Reiter, a Purdue research scientist, calls his computer-based program discrete — distinct — optimizing. It selects in minutes the best of many solutions, making the company management happy, and presumably the salesman, too.

Some garment makers also are using computers to come up with the most comfortable bras. In effect, the machine does the fitting from the mass of possible variations, both of the human body and the outer garments, fed into it.

The Krannert system, called quantitative management research, also is applied to scheduling the best method of operating a large job shop, where say five machines and five operations could involve as many as 25 billion sequences in handling a day's or a week's work.

Top management uses many hours of skull practice in setting up a research and development budget or a capital expenditure program. What it wants to know, if possible, is whether the millions of dollars involved will pay off.

Reiter says that his system by using forecasts of costs, market demand, plant site conditions for transportation and labor, and age- and population trends in accessible markets, can give management a quick answer on the most likely result of any plan, and the most profitable of many choices.

Weather Mostly Warm and Dry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm, dry weather prevailed over most of Arkansas again today and the Weather Bureau sees more of the same through Friday.

Isolated shower activity Tuesday was mostly confined to Southwest Arkansas. Hope recorded .93 inch of rain in a thundershower. Traces of rain were reported at several points.

Tuesday's high temperatures ranged from the mid 80s to the mid 90s and overnight minimum temperatures were generally in the 60s. Temperatures in the same range were forecast for tonight and Thursday.

Presidential Campaign Is on Its Way

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential campaign is on its way—but you'll need a scorecard to keep up with the two candidates: President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Before a Labor Day rally in Detroit Monday Johnson called for unity, which is what the Democratic platform called for two weeks ago. But Johnson made headlines with a not-new attack on Goldwater.

He shouted "no president of the United States can give up responsibility for deciding when or if to use nuclear weapons." The Democratic platform already had said the President alone must control the use of nuclear weapons.

Last Aug. 25 in Cleveland, Goldwater made a suggestion to the Veterans of Foreign Wars which wasn't new with him, either, that the NATO allies should be given their own stock of "small, tactical, nuclear weapons, what truly may be called conventional weapons" and the NATO commander should have more control over them. Goldwater had said that before.

But Johnson answered Monday to an estimated 100,000 people in Cadillac Square: "Make no mistake, there is no such thing as a conventional nuclear weapon." His administration had answered Goldwater on that before.

Two days after Goldwater's August talk to the veterans, Cyrus R. Vance, deputy secretary of defense, told the same group that to call tactical nuclear weapons small and conventional is "dangerously misleading."

He said the typical tactical nuclear weapons has several times the yield of the single bomb which destroyed Hiroshima and that "the largest block-busters of World War II are like hand grenades" compared to the support weapons in the hands of a single infantry division today.

Following the two sides on the subject of the draft is dizzy business.

When Adlai E. Stevenson was the Democratic presidential candidate in 1956 he suggested the draft "be ended at the earliest possible moment."

President Dwight D. Eisenhower fired back: "I see no chance of ending the draft and carrying out the responsibilities for the security of this country that must be carried out."

In 1956 Goldwater challenged Stevenson to be specific on how he planned to cut taxes, reduce the national debt, and end the draft. He said Stevenson had called for an adequate defense

"DEAR ABBY"

HE FEELS SAFER IN CELLAR

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My husband is a good man in every way, so please don't take this as a complaint against him. Every time it starts to storm and thunder, Bob runs down to the cellar to hide, and he stays down there until the storm subsides, even if it takes all night. It doesn't make any difference if we have guests or not, if a storm comes up, and it starts to thunder, Bob runs like a madman to hide in the cellar. I have asked him to see a head doctor, but he says there is nothing wrong with him. What must I do? He is 53 and has been this way ever since we've been married.

FRADY CAT'S WIFE

Dear Wife: Your husband's reaction to thunder storms is not as unusual as you think. His behavior is undoubtedly a hold-over from a childhood terror of storms which he never overcame. If this is his only eccentricity, tolerate it good-naturedly. And don't worry about what your guests think.

Dear Abby: How do you tell your boy friend's ex-girl friend to lay off?

TIRED OF HER

Dear Tired: You don't. The boy friend does. If he's "tired of her, too," that is.

Dear Abby: We've been having a rip-roaring argument in our bridge club over something that happens every bridge night. About half the girls feel that if your opponent is careless enough to hold her cards so that they can be easily seen, you should take full advantage of the situation without so much as a twinge of conscience. The other half, including me, says that this is just as dishonest as taking money out of a purse that was carelessly left on a bus. We've agreed to let you settle the argument, but I'll bet my next week's booby prize that you'll be on our side.

HONEST ABE

Dear Age: Pick up the booby prize. I know it's tiresome to continually tell one to hold her cards up, but it beats peeking, even though you do get an eyefull due to someone else's carelessness.

Dear Abby: My husband is a counselor for the state and occasionally he sees clients for private counseling. He is a qualified marriage counselor and anything he earns after hours is his. Lately he has been giving free counseling to a pretty young woman who is trying to save her marriage. He has never given his services free before, and I resent his giving up one night a week for this woman. She can well afford to pay him. So why is he giving her counseling for free. What is your advice?

RESENTFUL

Dear Resentful: Nothing is "for free." Your husband is being compensated for his time, if only in satisfaction. You should consult a counselor to find out how to cope with a husband who is toiling elsewhere

A COOK'S TALE

The first cooking utensils were hollowed-out shells and stones. They gave way to ceramic-ware centuries later. The ancient Egyptians stored water and food in huge pottery jars, and cooked in pottery bowls over open fires or in clay ovens.

Heavy iron pots were common by the 17th Century. Heavy cast iron kettles, frying pans and stewing pots were found in every home. Our colonial housewives cooked the evening meal in iron pots suspended over a blazing log fire in a huge kitchen fireplace.

Today's homemaker does not yearn for the "good old days." With her modern range and light-weight, even-heating aluminum cookware, she not only cooks better than her forebears but is spared the drudgery and discomfort.

when his own fences need mending. (P.S. And pay the counselor in cash.)

Would Avoid Any Military Take Over

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Federal officials told Arkansas government and civilian leaders here Tuesday that a state plan is needed so a military take over of government and the economy will not be necessary after a catastrophe.

The officials spoke to members of the new state Emergency Resources and Planning Committee, and others.

John E. Cosgrove of Washington, assistant director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said the plan is for the days after the Civil Defense survival program.

It is for the restoration of governmental and economic functions, he said.

The first part of the two-phase plan provides for continuity of government with a minimum of military interference, although military support would be provided if needed and requested.

The second phase provides for conservations of resources, such as food, medical supplies and fuel; and would set up consumer rationing and other controls to stabilize the economy.

Arkansas hopes to have the first phase outline ready by Nov. 1, and the second by Jan. 1, 1966.

Burrow Reports Spending $2,450

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — R. D. Burrow of Walnut Ridge, who ran last in the four-man race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, reported Tuesday he spent $2,450 in the campaign.

Burrow said in a statement filed with Secretary of State Kelly Bryant that his included his filing fee, advertising materials and travel.

Hal Cochran of Fort Smith said he spent $2,392 in his unsuccessful bid for the Republican nomination in the Third Congressional District.

Television and Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A sleek beige sports car, with red leather bucket seats, stick shift and wire wheels, drew smoothly up to the entrance of the hotel. Out stepped a slim woman with blonde hair, discreet make-up, wearing a chic blue knit dress and high-heeled shoes.

Neither the face nor the figure seemed familiar, but there came a familiar voice: "I'm sure sorry to be late, but we're on location in the hills today and I raced back to dab some water on this pore ole face." It was Grannie, the peppery old lady from the Ozark hills who refuses to be influenced by the sharp civilized ways of Beverly Hills.

Irene Ryan, who created the crotchety character in "Beverly Hillsbillies," is a veteran professional actress who has been in show business since she won a San Francisco amateur contest at the age of 11. Her experience includes vaudeville, radio, motion pictures, night clubs, but it wasn't until she popped up in the corn-fed CBS comedy series which exploded into a hit that she tasted the sweets of real success.

The series came at a critical moment in her life. A widow, her second marriage had ended unhappily and she was trying to decide whether to return to night clubs. Paul Henning, an old friend, took one look at her slight, slim figure and heard her squeaky voice and decided that, with some drab gray hair, old rags, Army boots and gold-rimmed specs that Grannie Clamptett had come to life.

Since then, it is Irene who has come to life. The Clamptett fortune, in the show, came from oil. A bit superstitiously, Irene invested a bit of her salary in an oil well and today she, too, receives a handsome monthly check — not millions, but a nice chunk of spending money.

"It's been a pretty busy summer for me," she said. "We've been out playing the fairs, pleasing the crowds — and making money."

The only real fly in this compulsive performer's ointment is that Irene Ryan looks so totally unlike Grannie that it is literally impossible to recognize her.

"I can go anywhere," she says, just a little bit unhappily. Maureen O'Sullivan, who left the cast of a Broadway hit to take over the woman's spot on NBC's "Today" show last May, decided that 13 weeks was enough and leaves at the end of next week. Pat Fontaine, who preceded Miss O'Sullivan as the "Today Girl" and established a longevity record in the spot, is reported to be back in St. Louis with her own weather show.

Jupe and his sidekicks hadn't much liked any part of this, afraid of their luck going back with this herd, worrying about their reception, distrustful their chances in a court dominated by as ruthless a man as Renwick. And they distrusted Ives, too, but the cows were turned because their fear of him was greater than the nag of other worries.

The shocked look of Jupe's stare, the sick pallor of Candy's cheeks, still filled Ives' head after a restless night of vacillating indecision.

He'd just put the best face he could on his efforts to swing Jupe back for a showdown, and there was truth in what he'd said but the sheriff, he knew, would be easily stampeded. Sam Renwick had this country tight in his fist and wasn't like to come unhorsed because some kid still wet behind the ears hollered boo!

Before they reached the end of this some of these jaspers sitting jumpy ahead could well catch a blue whistler.

Another day dragged past. When the hands showed up at the wagon for scalding java, sowlbely and beans, they wolfed their food in silence and, still scowling, rode off. Ives sometimes felt the sour strike of Jupe's glance.

With each passing mile their faces grew longer, but nobody shot off his mouth in Ives' hearing. The girl, particularly, seemed covertly to study him, but, like the rest, stayed as far from him as she conveniently could.

Ives felt like a leper. Not that he blamed anyone. Bad enough to be compelled to return with these cattle, it must be galling indeed to have him dogging their tracks after hearing from young Cotten what had happened to Alex. The wonder was the whole bunch hadn't bolted.

And they might pull their freight yet.

Each bitter hour this trek was hauling them closer to what must seem like certain retribution. For all they knew Ives might be hand in glove with Renwick.

Ives kept his eyes skinned, understanding the urges these tightening pressures sharpened inside them. He'd got his pistol back from Jupe but if those men decided to take him they would probably succeed. A man couldn't watch what went on behind his back.

Jupe, at Ives' urging, was scouting a different course than the one by which they'd fetched these critters, but no one felt much confidence the drive would reach its home range unremarked. The danger of ambush steadily mounted and as the miles fell behind the men's tempers shortened.

Even the cattle seemed to sense the tensions, their actions becoming more cantankerous as this uneasy day drew nearer its close.

"Those responsible citizens you were telling us about... when were you figuring for them to meet these cows?"

Ives turning, surprised, found Jupe's sister at his elbow, and chagrined at this evidence of his own too deep engrossment, frowned. It might just as easily have been a Cotten hard-case.

"They'll be at your daddy's headquarters," he said gruffly, "when we get there."

She looked at him sharply. "Don't you have to get in touch?"

Nodding irritably he said: "I'll

Zesty Salad Molds Taste Better

Better than ever before are molded salads prepared with the new salad gelatin available in celery or mixed vegetable flavor. To create a wide variety of tempting salads, combine this versatile gelatin with raw or cooked vegetables, cottage cheese, meat, or sea food.

Cottage Cheese and Green Pepper Salad

2 packages (3 oz. each) — celery flavor salad gelatin
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar

2 cups (1 pt.) cottage cheese
¼ cup diced green pepper
¾ cup diced celery
1½ teaspoons grated onion
Dash of Tabasco sauce

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add cold water and vinegar. Pour 1½ cups into 2-quart ring or individual molds. Chill until set, but not firm.

Meanwhile, stir remaining ingredients into remaining gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened. Spoon over almost-firm gelatin. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens. If desired, place carrot sticks in center of salad and serve with mayonnaise. Makes about 2 quarts or 8 to 10 main-dish salad servings.

Bronx Beach Has Riot by Negroes

NEW YORK (AP) — Holiday picnics at Orchard Beach in the Bronx erupted into a rampage Monday night and more than 100 Negro teenagers hurled garbage, beer cans, bottles and sand at policemen.

Some of the eight policemen on beach patrol fired three shots over the youngsters' heads and called for reinforcements. Fifteen more policemen arrived with two vans, and order was restored.

The barrages started when a policeman ordered some of the youths to stop pelting each other with beer cans.

No one was reported injured. Ten girls and 22 boys were taken to a police station for questioning. Fourteen boys were booked on charges of disorderly conduct and assault. The others were released.

New Fad May Be a Boon to Gambling

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — This city of fads has a new craze: an easy-to-learn card game which offers the house a take of $10,000 a day. Police fear it may give organized gambling a legal foothold in California and many other states.

The game is called panguingue (pang-ging-gi), an import from the Philippines via Las Vegas, Nev. Its fans usually shorten the name to pan.

Pan clubs have sprung up in seven cities and several unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County this summer, and vice-squad officers so far and powerful to stop them.

Two court rulings this week opened the door even wider to pan club operators.

Superior Court Judge Harold F. Collins issued temporary injunctions preventing Los Angeles and Santa Monica police from arresting members of clubs where the game is played.

His reasoning: Pan, never before widely played in this state, is not listed among the games specifically banned by California law.

Appeals are under way, but in the meantime police expect pan clubs to mushroom, reaping millions of dollars pending final determination.

Pan uses eight decks of cards, with each of five to eight players being dealt 10 cards per hand. The object, as in rummy, is to meld or lay down runs of cards. Each player antes a chip worth 50 cents or more, depending on table rules, and the pot goes to the player who lays down all cards first.

The house does not take a percentage of the pot — this is prohibited by state law — but does collect one chip from each pot as table rental.

The take is staggering.

Capt. Harry Nelson of the Los Angeles Vice Division says each hand lasts only two to three minutes, and thus one club can collect as much as $10,000 a day, or more than $3 million a year.

"It's obvious that this kind of money is bound to attract criminal elements," Nelson says.

Why is pan, an ancient Tagalog game with limited appeal in this country, suddenly catching on in Los Angeles?

"It seems fairly clear that somebody is promoting it," says Nelson. "Operators have found out that it is very attractive to housewives. It requires little if any skill and goes very fast."

Who makes sure the house gets its take? The dealer. He's the house man. He doesn't take part in the game; he just sits there collecting chips, dealing and arbitrating disputes.

Hubert Will Do Talking on Farming

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agricultural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

LBJ Leaves Doctor and Code Expert

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who sometimes likes to depart from tradition, flew to Detroit Monday without having a physician or code-carrying military officer aboard his small jet transport.

The doctor and the officer went to Detroit aboard a second plane that flew an identical route. All available space on Johnson's aircraft was occupied by the President and his wife, five Democratic members of Congress from Michigan, two labor union officials, a White House speechwriter and two Secret Service agents.

During the Kennedy administration, and on earlier flights by Johnson, both the physician and the code officer had flown regularly aboard the presidential plane — one available to treat any emergency health problem and the other to hand over top secret codes that the chief executive might urgently need in a national security crisis.

On the Detroit trip, it was learned Tuesday night, the plane that carried the doctor, the military man and other White House aides had a pressurization breakdown, and descended from 24,000 feet to 8,000 feet. The White House said this "presented no hazards whatsoever."

The plane was identical in mechanical features to the Air Force Jetstar transport used by Johnson that day.

Johnson has occasionally used a Jetstar as president, starting with a June 26 flight to a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Detroit. He often used one as vice president.

The Jetstar was cleared for presidential travel by the Federal Aviation Agency earlier this year, after some modifications were made in the craft.

Some White House and Pentagon officials have expressed unhappiness privately about Johnson's use of a Jetstar, arguing that it lacks the sizable crew, capacity or full range of communications gear available on the regular presidential transport, a Boeing 707.

Can't Revoke License

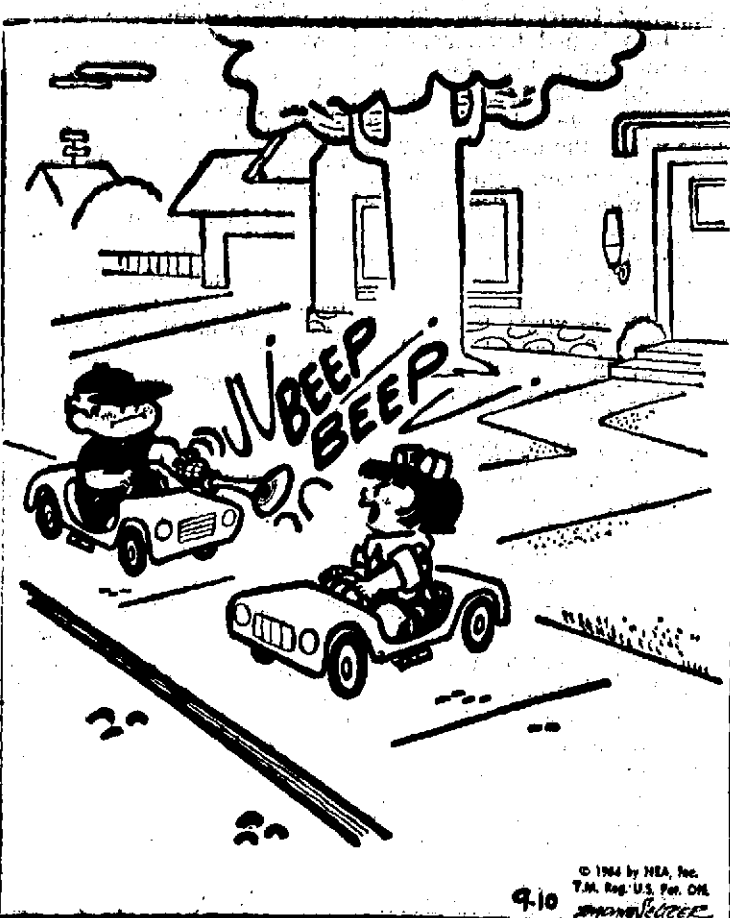

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state attorney general's office said Thursday that city councils have no authority to revoke or suspend beer or liquor licenses.

The opinion said this authority is vested by law only in the director of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Department.

ABC Director Alvin E. Bell said the Lake Village City Council had tried by ordinance to revoke a beer license.

Says Voters Can Kill State Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gambling in Arkansas is dead if voters turn down a proposed amendment to legalize casino gambling in Garland County, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday.

He said if the amendment is defeated, "whoever is governor of the state will abide by the expressed will of the people."

Faubus made the remark in answer to a question on whether he would allow the casinos to reopen on an illegal basis if he is re-elected and the amendment beaten.

He was interviewed on a 30-minute "Face Your State" program on Television Station KTHV in Little Rock. The program was taped for broadcast tonight.

Faubus closed casino gambling at Hot Springs last March after the Arkansas House of Representatives adopted a resolution condemning illegal gambling.

Hot Springs interests have proposed a constitutional amendment to be voted on in the Nov. 3 general election.

Faubus would not say if the fact that he had joined with party and electric cooperative officials in inviting Sen. Hubert Humphrey to Arkansas next week indicated he would support the Johnson-Humphrey ticket Nov. 3.

Faubus, who has declined to take sides in the presidential race, said "I'm the state Democratic nominee for governor, and he's the Democratic nominee for vice president."

"I'm very busy campaigning for Orval Faubus," he added.

Faubus said Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's strength in Arkansas is not as great as it was three or six weeks ago.

In reply to questions, Faubus criticized Winthrop Rockefeller, his Republican opponent.

"Rockefeller is trying to change his color, or his spots, on the racial issue," he said.

"My position is well known," Faubus said.

"Rockefeller is an ardent civil rights advocate and he was in on the conference when federal troops were called to Little Rock in 1957. Now he says these things should be handled at the local level," Faubus said.

Faubus also said that Rockefeller never personally secured an industry for Arkansas during his nine years as chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. He also said Rockefeller was trying to take credit for the state's industrial progress and even for setting up the AIDC, which Faubus said Rockefeller had nothing to do with.

Asked about a conference last week in which Faubus called Rockefeller a carpetbagger, the governor said:

"One hundred years ago men came to Arkansas with their carpetbags empty trying to fill them with what people had. A modern carpetbagger comes with his bag full of money and tries to make the state an adjunct to Winrock Enterprises. He's not actually a carpetbagger."

Faubus said he was more determined than ever that if he wins a sixth term this fall he will not run for a seventh in 1966.

He said checks with voters have made him conclude that the race between himself and Rockefeller would be "a pretty good horse race."

Goldwater's Friend Wins in Arizona

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Kleindienst, field director of Sen. Barry Goldwater's successful bid for the GOP presidential nomination, won Arizona's Republican gubernatorial race as six states held primary elections Tuesday.

Kleindienst trounced Evan Mecham, Phoenix publisher and auto dealer, in his bid to succeed Gov. Paul Fannin. Fannin was unopposed for the GOP nomination to the Senate seat Goldwater has held for 12 years.

Across the nation, in New Hampshire, Republicans apparently ended the political career of former Gov. Wesley Powell. He lost the GOP gubernatorial primary to John Pillsbury.

Renominated with ease were Sens. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Govs. John King, D-N.H., John W. Reynolds, D-Wis., and Philip Hoff, D-Vt.

Here is a rundown on key contests:

ARIZONA

Kleindienst was 15,000 votes ahead of Mecham on returns from about half of the state's precincts.

His Democratic opponent in November will be Sam Goddard, who lost to Fannin in 1962. Fannin's senatorial foe will be Roy Elson, for 10 years administrative assistant to Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz. Elson defeated former State Supreme Court Justice Renz Jennings and four others.

Kleindienst had resigned from Goldwater's campaign to make his first bid for elective office.

NE HAMPSHIRE

Powell conceded to Pillsbury as counting passed the halfway mark. The former governor said he would back Pillsbury in the general election, a contrast to 1962 when he supported King.

VERMONT

Lt. Gov. Ralph A. Foote edged former Lt. Gov. Robert Prouty, for the GOP gubernatorial nomination against Gov. Hoff. Sen. Prouty will be opposed by State Sen. Frederick J. Fayette who defeated former Rep. William H. Meyer in the Democratic primary.

MINNESOTA

McCarthy swamped two foes and also outpolled Republican Wheelock Whitney, his November opponent.

WISCONSIN

Reynolds swamped Milwaukee attorney Dominic Frinzi in the Democratic gubernatorial race, while Warren P. Knowles held a 2-to-1 lead on the GOP side over Milo Knutson, five-term mayor of La Crosse and a staunch supporter of Goldwater who had said he would accept votes and funds from the John Birch Society. Proxmire easily outpolled two opponents, but his vote total was below that of unopposed GOP nominee Wilbur Renk.

COLORADO

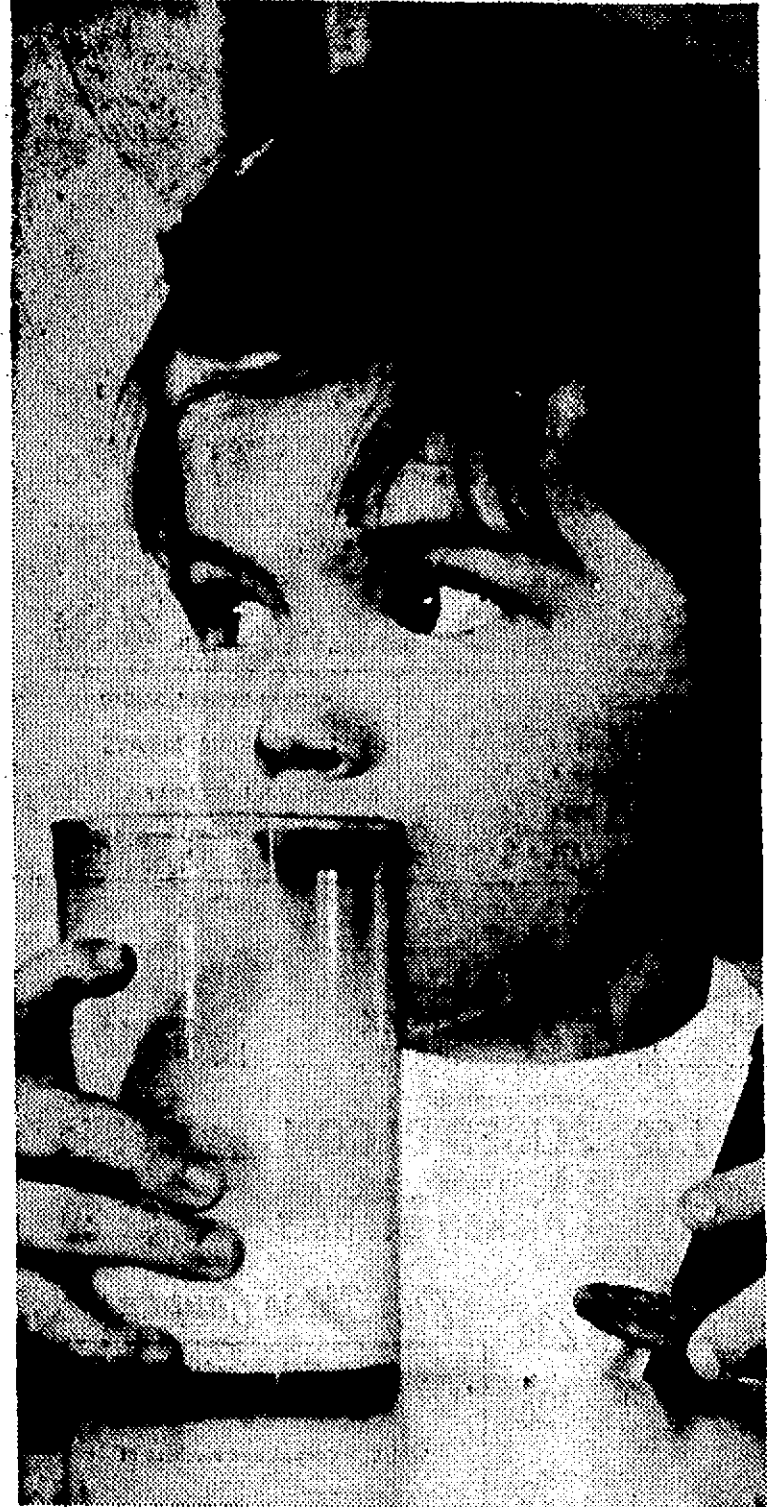

There were no senatorial or gubernatorial races. All four House members were renominated.

Voting Booths

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Election Research Council said Tuesday night it will take orders from individuals to place cardboard voting booths in the precinct the purchaser designates.

John H. Haley, chairman, said the council will ship the $3.55 booths and notify the county election commissioner of its purchase. He said the commissioners would have to use the booth because state law requires voting booths.

He told a civic club that the council has found irregularities in election proceedings which "dilute your vote so it doesn't count as much as it should."

Guiana Faced With Crisis Politically

By ROBERT BERNELLEZ

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Dr. Cheddi Jagan has turned in his prophetic robes for the trappings of a practical politician to avert election defeat this fall.

The consensus is that the darkly handsome Marxist prime minister will fail.

But to British Guianese who consider Jagan's ouster a certainty, the forthcoming elections will amount to no more than changing the driver of the same old bus route. This is because of a spreading belief that the wave of racial violence between Guianese of East Indian and of African descent has gone beyond political control.

Without internal peace and a common objective, little hope is held for the development of this troubled colony, whether the leader be Jagan or his arch-rival, Negro leader L. Forbes Burnham.

Reflecting the opinion of some prominent Guianese, Police Commissioner Peter Owen said recently: "Neither Jagan nor Burnham can govern without the consent of the other. I'm afraid violence has now gone beyond the realm of politics."

Owen, a ruddy-faced Briton, commands a force of 1,600 men and 600 volunteers, often badly overmatched in 24 months of almost continuous civil strife. Terrorist violence since February has claimed 161 lives, 24 persons are missing, more than 800 wounded and damage to property and crops is estimated at over $2.5 million.

The violence has evolved around the controversial personalities of Jagan and big, erudite Burnham, 41, a lawyer-Shakespearian scholar with a large following among the Negro middle and poor classes, but viewed warily by some intellectuals who say they see in him a thirst for power.

A Socialist and political ex-colleague of Jagan, Burnham bosses the Peoples' National Congress from a small office marked simply "leader." Party members refer to each other as "comrade."

There is little doubt that Burnham enjoys the full support of the U.S. and British governments. Jagan, the first Marxist with a clear-cut mandate in Western Hemisphere history and winner of three elections in the last decade, has been unable to govern successfully because of strong resistance at home, in London and in Washington to his policies. They are regarded as too far left.

Jagan apparently has decided the image cast by his left-wing extremist posture has cut too deeply into the ranks of his Peoples' Progressive party following to survive the new election test.

Persons close to the party hierarchy report Jagan and his strategists are considering a public denunciation of communism.

The strategy is to overcome the election maneuver through which the British hope to oust Jagan and eventually grant independence to this long-wanted colony. Under pressure from Washington, Britain has refused to let British Guiana go while Jagan remains leader.

The British Colonial Office has devised a proportional representation formula — bitterly opposed by Jagan and his party — for elections expected sometime in November.

Theoretically, in the absence of a clear majority for any of the three major parties, the prime ministry would go to a coalition — in this case the Burnham party and the arch-conservative United Force party. They got 41.3 and 16 per cent, respectively, of the 1960 vote.

Although their programs have key basic issues—Independence and social reform—in common, Jagan and Burnham differ vigorously on points that have proven irreconcilable and would rule out a coalition at this time.

Confronted with formidable obstacles, Jagan seems bent on recovering lost ground in the urban areas he had neglected in favor of the rice paddies and sugar plantations, where his

Two Judges Dispose of Case Quickly

By VAN SAVELL

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judges Marion S. Boyd and Bailey Brown are a zealous pair. They demand quick action, and they get it.

It adds up to savings in time and money and means they have created possibly the only "current" court docket in the country.

"The judges have a phenomenal record for getting cases disposed of — in court or out," said a Memphis lawyer. "They're proud of the record. And they keep the pressure on us. That way we don't lose things up with delaying tactics."

There are 73,000 civil cases pending before all federal courts, plus several thousand criminal cases.

"This is the great tragedy of the American judicial system," said Boyd. "Many of the cases have been on the docket three years or longer."

Not so in the federal courts in Memphis and Jackson, Tenn.

There were 371 civil cases pending as of June 30 this year. None of the pending cases, now available for trial, is older than one year.

How does it happen?

"Back in 1940, when I became a federal judge, the system of setting the court calendar was much involved and too time-consuming," says Boyd. "I went into my first calendar session prepared. We didn't hassle over trial dates. I said: 'Gentlemen, I've got a trial schedule already made out. I'm going to read it and if you think you need a change, we'll see what can be done.' It took less than an hour, I assume, and there was only one revision."

Today, a civil case is set for trial, depending on its nature, shortly after the defendant files an answer to the suit. A criminal trial is set shortly after the defendant is arraigned.

The judges notify lawyers of the dates by mail. The dates aren't changed by a simple call to the court clerk, Lloyd C. Johnson. The lawyer must come into court and have a good reason.

Before civil trials, lawyers and judges hold a conference in which the complaints and issues are discussed. The lawyers have already prepared a memo explaining their points and authorities. The judges require these be exchanged among the lawyers.

These conferences and exchanges of legal arguments had too many of the out-of-court settlements.

The settled cases save money for the government.

Integration Is Quiet in Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public school desegregation spread quietly into some of the smaller cities of the Deep South this week in what one civil rights leader called a turning point for the area.

Union Springs, Ala., a rural-oriented town southeast of Montgomery, faced the test today, when Negroes begin their studies with white classmates.

The community was expected to take the court-ordered integration in stride just as did Montgomery and Gadsden, Ala., Prince Edward County, Va., and Albany, Ga.

Nine more Negroes planned to join 21 others in desegregated schools in Albany, a south Georgia city where hundreds of Negroes were jailed for street demonstrations in 1961-63.

Columbus, Ga., also began desegregation Tuesday, admitting two Negroes to a white school under court order. Every major Georgia city now has begun desegregation.

The pattern of nonviolence was described as "the turning point for the Deep South" by Constance Baker Motley of New York, the NAACP legal defense fund attorney who fought dozens of courtroom battles over desegregation.

"I don't recall any similar year of widespread peaceful compliance since the 1954 Supreme Court decision," she said in New York.

At Montgomery, eight Negroes entered two white high schools and an elementary school. Four white men picketed Robert E. Lee High for a time but there were no incidents.

In Gadsden, a tense scene of demonstrations last year, three schools accepted 15 Negroes without incident. Only a few spectators were on hand and School Supt. I. J. Browder said the citizens "want to abide by the law."

Prince Edward County, Va., reopened its public schools but only seven white children were among the 1,400 Negroes. The schools were shut five years ago to avoid integration.

The remainder of the county's white school-age children, 1,200 of them, remained in the private segregated system set up after the public schools were

Declares Charity Is Not Needed

PINEVILLE, W.Va. (AP) — Cecil H. Underwood, Republican candidate for governor, says West Virginians don't need the kind of charity shown by the New York taxi driver who brought clothes for the needy in Appalachia last weekend.

Addressing a Labor Day celebration, Underwood said: "We certainly don't need New York cab drivers to come into West Virginia. New Yorkers have their own problems."

Paul Raynard, 26, a part-time taxidriver and actor, collected about 3,000 pounds of clothing and other items from his customers and delivered them to Charleston, W.Va., and Pikeville, Ky.

Teacher Wants to Wed Actress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nathaniel Calvin Stegall, an unemployed schoolteacher, told police he had come here by train last week from St. Louis to propose to actress Kim Novak.

Stegall, 41, spent the last of his money on a cab ride to her home in the Bel-Air district. But she wasn't there.

So he climbed through a bathroom window, raided the refrigerator and, when no one turned up, slept in the garage Saturday night — and again Sunday.

Monday evening two of Miss Novak's friends dropped by to use the swimming pool, heard someone stirring, and called police.

Miss Novak is in London, working on a picture.

Police booked Stegall on suspicion of burglary.

Killed by Pipe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Homer H. Howell, 61, of Tipton, Miss., was killed Tuesday when a pipe fell across him as he was helping lay pipeline about five miles east of here. The sheriff's office said he was an employee of Rivers Construction Co.

closed in mid-1959.

At Houston, Tex., 1,005 Negro pupils enrolled in 18 desegregated elementary schools.

At Canton, Miss., 13 Negro pupils were turned away when they attempted to enter the white Canton Junior-Senior High School. The city schools are not under any federal court order to desegregate.

Weather Pattern Same for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and warm weather is forecast for Arkansas through the next few days.

It's the same weather pattern Arkansas has had for more than a week, even to the prediction of scattered, light showers.

Frontal systems are expected to remain well north of the state during the period.

South Arkansas got scattered showers Monday, but amounts were small, generally under one-fourth inch.

Mid-afternoon high temperatures Monday ranged from the mid 80s to the low 90s and overnight lows were in the low 60 to low 70 range. Maximum and minimum temperatures today and tonight are expected to be in the same range.

Maine Girl Wins a Desert Island

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Like to own a desert island? A South Portland girl has won one.

West Brown Cow Island is in Maine's Casco Bay, four miles from the mainland.

There isn't even a tree on the two-acre rock. Just grass and scrub growth.

"It looks like a whale," says Madeline A. Hourihan, 22, a secretary who won the island in a contest sponsored by a car dealer.

"I'll just keep it for weekends — for tenting, lobster feeds, fishing or just roughing it."

Dorsey Spent $5,442

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Odell Dorsey of Grant County, an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, reported Tuesday that he spent $5,442 in his campaign.

J. E. Hinstaw of Springdale reported spending $1,546 as a Republican nominee for U.S. representative. Both listed their expense statements with Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

following borders on the mystical.

Measured against the tempo of racial violence, most of the campaign talk sounds hollow. There are only thin hopes that election results will restore peace.

Formal Furniture Makes Fall News

They say patio dining caused it all. The shirt sleeved evenings and informality of the barbecue is leading to a fall and winter-time extremism within the home itself. Or at least, so say the furniture makers, who are betting on this trend with the introduction of new, elegant, classic furniture for home dining areas.

This grouping by Bassett Furniture Industries is called Facade. It is of Italian provincial inspiration. In keeping with the trend toward softer coloration of furniture finishes, the details include maple burl veneer or drawer and door overlays combined with solid birch moldings.

Wooden rosettes and especially designed brass trim for the legs and hardware add elegance to the architectural design.

The breakfast china with its glass sides and shelves measures 72 inches and contains interior lights to dramatize cherished dinnerware or accessories. A look of spaciousness is achieved with the cane high back chairs. The collection includes a handsome credenza buffet, octagonal as well as oval table and a drop-leaf server on casters.
